BOARDING

- Ships depart from Moscow or St. Petersburg with a standard check-in procedure. The boarding begins two hours before departure. Check-in takes no more than a few minutes, and requires your cruise ticket and the identity documents of all tourists traveling with you. After check-in, you will receive your cabin keys, restaurant table number and tour group number.
- We recommend that you board the vessel no later than 20 minutes before departure. Travelers are fully responsible for arriving on time. Our cruises keep to a strict schedule and late arrival or failure to arrive on time for any reason will lead to a non-refundable cancellation of the cruise. If for some reason you are unable to board on time, contact your travel agency representative or contact us directly. In most cases, you may be able to catch up with the ship and board at the next cruise stop.

CODE OF CONDUCT

During the cruise, the passenger is obliged to comply with the requirements of the internal regulations, comply with safety rules and follow all orders of the ship's crew. Smoking is allowed only in assigned places on board. Refusal to follow all instructions provided by S-Cruises personnel may result in enforcement actions, up to an including denial of boarding or removal from the vessel.

ACCOMMODATION

- S-Cruises ships offer a wide range of accommodation: Standard and Comfort cabins for two guests, Standard Single either with balcony or without one for a solo traveler, and Junior Suites and Suite with private balconies for those who like high-level of comfort.
- Regardless of the category, all cabins have the following facilities: satellite TV, hair dryer, refrigerator, and electric outlets, as well as complimentary bottled water for every guest, handy cruise accessories, blankets for keeping you warm on deck and much more.

DINING

- We make it our priority to care for every detail and carefully create a menu, which is served on all S-Cruises vessels.
- On the first day you can expect a welcome dinner prepared by our head chef, accompanied by a glass of sparkling wine.
- Start your morning with our diverse breakfast buffet. There's plenty to choose from: delicious porridge, fresh fruits and vegetables, fluffy omelet, blini, Russian syrniki (cottage cheese pancakes) with jam. For those who favor the unusual there's also herring, bryndza cheese, and olives. A glass of champagne is the perfect way to wrap up breakfast.
- Order lunch and dinner from a menu featuring three types of soups, salads, main courses, and desserts. If meat is not your thing no need to worry, menus include meat, fish, and vegetarian dishes every day. Dinner will come not just with tea or coffee but also with your choice of wine or vodka.

ENTERTAINMENT

Two considerations are important for us in preparing a program of onboard activities:

- There should be a wide range of things to do
- They should cater both to those who spend their leisure time actively and those who would like to relax more quietly.

From early morning to late evenings, guests will find something to their taste on board. Picture yourself on a cruise, what activities would you pick?

For those enjoying active leisure, the ship's program features the following athletic events:

- A daily morning exercise program for 10-15 minutes
- Half-hour yoga, pilates or gymnastics
- Dance masterclasses: the waltz, foxtrot, the quadrille, yablochko, salsa, bachata or merengue
- Chess, backgammon or darts tournaments

All S-Cruises vessels host music and poetry evenings during voyages lasting more than 7 days. Guests usually look forward to evenings of chamber music, lectures about musical instruments, and poetry readings.

TOURS

Throughout your cruise, you'll visit new towns, cities, and discover Russian culture, finding out many new things along the way. Your cruise ticket already includes many onshore excursions but if you're truly passionate about history you can always acquire additional tours online or on board. If you do purchase online, it will cost you less than buying on board. List of optional excursions is listed on our website and in your cruise program.

KIDS

Travelling with children? S-Cruises vessels can provide a baby crib along with a set of children's bed linen. Before setting out on a family trip, we recommend to check whether baby cribs can be set up in your selected cabins. Travelers under 10 years of age can expect a small present.

CLOTHING

There is no dress code aboard our vessels. However, if you want to take part in our morning exercise program, you might be more comfortable in some sports attire, while going dancing might need something a little more stylish.

We recommend packing comfortable footwear with non-skid soles for walking on decks and during onshore tours. Bringing a sweater or windbreaker is also advised - evenings in the fresh air can be chilly even after a hot day.

Captain's dinner is often organized on board when your cruise is more than 4 days in duration. The captain and cruise director join travelers for dinner and a glass of champagne, as the head chef prepares exclusive dishes. Eveningwear and a festive mood are encouraged.

ELECTRONIC DEVICES

- Pack any electronic devices you may need. Smartphones will for the most part allow you to stay connected with your family. Signal strength is not consistent throughout a cruise, and signals can be lost entirely in certain areas for a while but are generally reliable near populated areas. If you're a fan of photography don't forget your camera. During the cruise, you'll get a chance to capture many unique shots. Make sure to take your chargers with you.
- Our cabins are equipped with 220V electric outlets.
- Travel adapter will be a handy thing to bring with you on board, as Russian outlets could be different from outlets that are used in your country.

MEDICAL SERVICES

A ship's doctor is on board for every cruise, and first aid is provided free of charge. We advise that passengers preparing for their trip pack medicines that are most effective for them: headache and cold medicine, as well as bandages or adhesive plaster.

f you have a chronic medical condition requiring specific medication, be sure to take it with you.
